PROGRESS CHENANGO 2025

Making Chenango County a better place to live

We can wait for the future—or we can start building it today. So, how are Chenango County's communities preparing for success? How are they gearing up for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead? Are you interested in learning more about the key businesses and organizations shaping the future of Norwich, Sherburne, Greene, Oxford, Bainbridge, New Berlin, the Otselic Valley, and the other towns that make up Chenango County? From February 3 to February 7, 2025, The Evening Sun will present our annual Progress series, a longstanding tradition that captures the spirit of our community for the past year. This year's theme, "Progress: A Brighter Tomorrow," explores how organizations and public resources are being developed and invested through infrastructure, workforce, housing and public services to enhance the local quality of life. Progress will be included as part of the regular newspaper, with each day's edition featuring additional pages filled with business insights from across the county. Delivered at no extra charge to readers and available as keepsake sections, Progress serves as both an in-depth community resource and a valuable snapshot of the county's progress. Our readers and advertisers are vital partners of independent, local journalism. We are grateful for your continued help in keeping Chenango County informed and connected. What is Progress Chenango? Progress Chenango is an annual publication by The Evening Sun that highlights the advancements, challenges, and stories of resilience in Chenango County. Featuring insights from local business owners, representatives, and community leaders, this special edition provides a comprehensive look into what's changing and evolving in our region. Designed as a keepsake, Progress Chenango captures voices from the community and offers a year-round perspective on local progress.

TAX GUIDE

THE RIGHT TO A FAIR AND JUST TAX SYSTEM

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights is a cornerstone document that highlights the 10 fundamental rights taxpayers have when dealing with the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS wants every taxpayer to be aware of these rights in the event they need to work with the IRS on a personal tax matter. The IRS continues to publicly highlight these rights to taxpayers. The IRS also regularly reminds its employees about these rights. The IRS expects employees to understand and apply taxpayer rights throughout every encounter with taxpayers.

IRS Publication 1, Your Rights as a Taxpayer, includes a full list of taxpayers' rights.

It includes The Right to a Fair and Just Tax System.

Taxpayers have the right to expect the tax system to consider facts and circumstances that might affect their underlying liabilities, ability to pay, or ability to provide information timely. Taxpayers have the right to receive assistance from the Taxpayer Advocate Service if they are experiencing financial difficulty or if the IRS has not resolved their tax issues properly and timely through its normal channels.

What you can expect:

- If you can't pay your tax debt in full and you meet certain conditions, you can get a payment plan with the IRS. You pay a set amount over time, generally in monthly payments. See the IRS Online Payment Agreement Application.
- You can submit an offer in compromise asking the IRS to settle your tax debt for less than the full amount. You can do this if (1) you believe you do not owe all or part of the tax debt, (2) you are unable to pay the full amount within the time permitted by law to collect it, or (3) paying the full amount would cause financial hardship or would be unjust.
- The IRS has published a list of national and local guidelines about the basic costs of living. You can use it when considering an offer to reduce your tax debt. The IRS won't use these guidelines if they result in your not having enough money to pay your basic living expenses. The IRS would use your actual expenses instead.
- The IRS cannot levy, or seize, all of your wages to collect your unpaid tax. A portion will be exempt from levy to allow you to pay basic living expenses.
- You can receive help from the Taxpayer Advocate Service or from a Low Income Taxpayer Clinic.
- The IRS can abate the unpaid portion of any tax or liability, and is specifically authorized to abate interest that is excessive or interest that was assessed erroneously, illegally, or after the statutory period of limitations on collection has expired.
- The IRS can abate interest on an underpayment caused by unreasonable delay or error by an IRS employee if the taxpayer (or representative) did not contribute to the delay or error.

To find out more about the TBOR and what it means to you visit the Taxpayer Advocate Service's website.

By making this important publication available in multiple languages, the IRS hopes to increase the number of Americans who know and understand their rights under the tax law. The IRS has more tax information in other languages too. See the "Languages" menu at the top of any IRS.gov page.

The IRS also is committed to protecting taxpayers' civil rights. The IRS will not tolerate discrimination based on age, color, disability, race, reprisal, national origin, English proficiency, religion, sex, sexual orientation or status as a parent. This includes any contact with IRS employees and the staff or volunteers at community sites.

If a taxpayer faces discrimination, they can send a written complaint PDF to the IRS Civil Rights Division.

THE RIGHT TO APPEAL AN IRS DECISION IN AN INDEPENDENT FORUM

The Taxpayer Bill of Rights (TBOR) is a cornerstone document that highlights the 10 fundamental rights taxpayers have when dealing with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). The IRS wants every taxpayer to be aware of these rights in the event they need to work with the IRS on a personal tax matter. The IRS continues to publicly highlight these rights to taxpayers. The IRS also regularly reminds its employees about these rights. The IRS expects employees to understand and apply taxpayer rights throughout every encounter with taxpayers.

IRS Publication 1, Your Rights as a Taxpayer, includes a full list of taxpayers' rights.

It includes The Right to Appeal an IRS Decision in an Independent Forum.

Taxpayers are entitled to a fair and impartial administrative appeal of most IRS decisions, including many penalties, and have the right to receive a written response regarding the Office of Appeals' decision. Taxpayers generally have the right to take their cases to court.

What you can expect:

- The IRS Commissioner must ensure that there is an independent IRS Office of Appeals. It's an office that is separate from the IRS office that initially reviewed your case. Generally, Appeals will not discuss a case with the IRS to the extent that those communications appear to compromise the independence of Appeals.
- Publication 5, Your Appeal Rights and How to Prepare a Protest If You Don't Agree PDF, tells you how to appeal your tax case if you don't agree with the IRS's findings.
- If the IRS has sent you a statutory notice of deficiency, which is a notice proposing additional tax, and you timely file a petition with the United States Tax Court, you may dispute the proposed adjustment in tax court before you have to pay the tax. For more information about the United States Tax Court, see the Court's taxpayer information page.
- Generally, if you fully paid the tax and the IRS denies your tax refund claim, or if the IRS takes no action on the claim within six months, then you may file a refund suit. You can file a suit in a United States District Court or the United States Court of Federal Claims. However, you generally have only two years to file a refund suit from the date the IRS mails you a notice that denies your claim.

To find out more about the TBOR and what it means to you visit the Taxpayer Advocate Service's website.

By making this important publication available in multiple languages, the IRS hopes to increase the number of Americans who know and understand their rights under the tax law. The IRS has more tax information in other languages too. See the "Languages" menu at the top of any IRS.gov page.
