Richfield in 1915

Submitted by Village of Richfield Springs
Historian Harriett Geywits

Let's continue with our look at what life was like in 1915 in the Richfield area by seeing what businesses had to offer.

The railroad depot was definitely a hub of activity. Trains were still the easiest and most efficient way to move goods and passengers. The D. L. & W. announced a special excursion to New York City - the fare for the round trip from this village was $8.15 and the tickets were good for a stay of ten days. The elite summer visitors transported their fancy carriages and horses by train. Supplies for the area stores came in and milk, feed and just about everything else needed to sustain life in the area, came and went by train.

The trolley line was also a major source of transportation. In April, the Otsego and Herkimer Railroad Company contracted to have a modern station constructed in place of the old one. It was to be a one story of wood with a concrete foundation with a long covered platform at the rear. As you entered from Main Street, you found the waiting room which would accommodate the public and at the right, there was a restaurant with a complete kitchen in the rear. The plans also provided for a separate baggage room. The Richfield Springs Mercury published all the news that was fit to print as a weekly newspaper costing $1.50 for a yearly subscription - payable in advance. The Daily was published during the summer season at a subscription cost of $1.00 for the season. This covered the happenings at the various hotels and rooming houses, who came to town, who left town, and what entertainments were offered. By 1915, the Daily had been published each season for 29 years. The Mercury also did all types of printing of notices, invitation and labels as needed.

Although not drawing the number of guests that had visited in past years, Richfield still was enjoying the end of the 'Age of Elegance'. This was most likely due to those who no longer felt that it was safe to travel to the spas in Europe, but still wanted a place to relax and enjoy health benefits. There were several places to stay for the season as advertised by the Lackawanna Railroad: Hotel Majestic - accommodates 75 with rate of $15 to $25 per week; Bloomfield's - formerly the Earlington - accommodates 400 with rates of $17.50 per week and upwards. (If you were dining at Bloomfield's, a regular dinner would be $1.25 if you were a visitor to the area and $1.00 if you were a village resident.); The Tuller - accommodates 200 with rates of $15 per week and upward; Berkeley-Waiontha - accommodates 200 with rates on application; Darrow House - accommodates 100 with rates $14 to $21 per week; Schuyler House would accommodate 60 with rates $8 to $10 per week; New Richfield Hotel - accommodates 50 with a rate of $2 per day or $10 per week; Kendallwood - accommodates 125 with rates $14 per week and upward; Tunnicliffe Lawn - could accommodate 15 with rates of $10 to $12 per week. Most of the larger hotels had areas in their lobbies for specialty shops.

There was never a lack of things to do for visitors including visits to the Country Club on Montgomery Road (now Millstone Rd.); the Garden of the Mills at the end of Montgomery Road; tennis courts; concerts given in the park twice daily; numerous dances and balls; card parties; dancing classes; music classes and recitals' dinners; coaching parties; hay rides - something for everyone. The Bathing Establishment was often advertised in the New York papers. Erected in 1890 at a cost of about sixty thousand dollars, it was owned in 1915 by a company formed in the town and located in our present Village Park.

There was a number of organizations including the Business Men's Association (a forerunner of the Chamber of Commerce); Agricultural Society which was in charge of the annual fair and horse show; Boy Scouts; D. A. R.; a local band; Home Economics Club; Odd Fellows; Masons; Eastern Star; Granges and church groups. The War Relief League worked to make garments to send to the children in France and to raise money to send to the allied soldiers. By 1916, they combined their efforts with the Red Cross.

Special events of the year included a motorcycle race at the Driving Park for purses totaling $300 - admission was 25 cents; trotting races on Main Street - winter and summer; auto races, also on Main Street. Chautauque groups were in great demand. This adult education movement featured lectures, plays and musical performances which were described by President Wilson as an integral part of the national defense to stimulate thought and discussion on important political, social and cultural issues of the day.

There was always time for fun when the Robbins' Circus came to town by way of the railroad. The Central New York Kennel Club held a very successful dog show at the Shaul theater in August with 140 dogs shown. The kennel with the largest entry was the Waiontha Kennels, owned by Floyd Conklin of Richfield. The Canadarago Park skating rink continued to be a very popular spot to enjoy a picnic, swimming, boating, concerts and, of course, skating. We can't forget the library which was an important social and cultural gathering place.

What were just a few of the places available for your shopping pleasure?

D. A. Bierman on Lake Street offered harness and repairs as well as accessories for motorcycles and bicycles.

M.E. Brace sold clothing including Ball Band Footwear. Their phone number was 318-F-2.

Brockway Garage was operated from 1913-1931 on Main Street.

Buchanan Hardware was the place you would find everything you might need.

H. Buff took care of ridding you of unwanted rags and metal and L. Buff ran the New Charles Wine and Liquor Store, both located opposite the D. L. & W. Depot on Lake Street.

C. E. Caney was one of the local jewelers and optometrists as well as being the watch inspector for the D. L. & W. railroad.

O. B. Chapman was a pharmacist and Crowe & Bigelo had a Rexall store.

With a stop at Rocco Curcio's you could find all your favorite sheet music as well as candy of your choice.

Daly's Smoke Shop featured the Otsego Belles Brand, made by D. W. Woods, the local cigar manufacturer selling for 10 cents.

The Empire Wall Paper Co., run by Dibble and Taylor had the latest in paper and boarders.

The Gladstone Book Store carried books, paper supplies and writing materials as well as a line of golf, tennis and baseball supplied.

C. E. Goodale had two stores, a grocery and back shop.

P. J. Jordan had his cement works on the corner of West Main and River Streets.

S. S. Kinne had his clothing store on Lake Street where he offered adult shoes for $2.00 and children's shoes for 50 cents, operating on a cash only basis.

Your horse could be shod by the Lockwood Brothers and your picture taken at the Koonz Studio on Lake Street.

McGrath Bros. were the funeral directors on Center Street and advertised that they answered all calls promptly.

Ostrander and Owens offered farm machinery and Peckham & Sheridan building materials.

Rex Monuments created headstones to your liking and the Richfield Milling Company took care of your grinding and feed needs.

Richfield Supply Co. carried a wide variety of items including those for the household.

The Shaul family provided tailoring and were furriers as well as operating the theater. Simmons Brothers Garage offered the Overland Touring Car for $850 complete with electric lights!

M. Tuller & Son carried everything from clothing to food. Grocery prices at the time included seedless oranges at 30 cents a dozen; three cans of Campbell's soup at 25 cents; and 25 pounds of granulated sugar at $1.59.

M. A. Walter conducted his jewelry and optometry work in the Gladstone building, taking on a partner in 1915 to become Walter & Rankin.

The West End Store, Mr. Grossman proprietor, carried meat supplies. The Village Laundry on Center St. was where you could 'put your duds in our suds'.

The business directory of that year listed dentists, doctors, veterinarians, and insurance agents. The four local barber shops (Osterhout, Connor, Schaeffer and Hersey) charged 15 cents for a hair cut and shave; mustache trim 5 cents and razor honing 25 cents.

Unfortunately, it was necessary in September of 1915 to enforce the following: "Because of the prevalence of Infantile Paralysis in New York City and in accordance with recommendations of the State Department of Health, all hotel and boarding house keepers and all other persons are hereby required to report with 24 hours the presence of all children arriving from New York City, under 16 years of age, in their hotels, boarding house or homes, to the health officer. All such children shall be excluded from all public gatherings for a period of two weeks following their arrival in the village. All dishes, spoon and glasses used by the public at soda fountains shall be scalded with boiling water before being used again. All children under the age of sixteen are prohibited from attending picture shows or entertainments in Shaul's theater." Signed H. V. Frink, Health Officer.

The year of 1915 represents the beginning of the changes, some good, some bad, in the Village. Some changes were unavoidable while other were made in an effort to make a difference of the betterment of our world.

2024 Mount Markham Optimist Community CHRISTMAS BASKET PROGRAM

Christmas is just around the corner. The Mount Markham Optimist Club and the entire community are preparing for the annual Community Christmas Basket Program. Due to the generosity and support from individuals, organizations, and businesses in our community this program has always been a great success and a source of pride for the Mount Markham community.

We know that many families in our community are facing financial difficulties. The number of families in need is certain to be comparable to last year's number. The Community Christmas Basket Program provides these families with food gift cards and wrapped gifts which help them celebrate the joy of Christmas.

Whether you would like to help through the purchase of a gift for a deserving child or adult, or give a monetary donation, your assistance is needed again this year. Please look at the blessings in your own life and consider your friends and neighbors in our community who are not as fortunate. Your contribution given in the spirit of love and concern for those in need will be greatly appreciated.

We will be delivering presents and food gift cards on Saturday, December 21st. Make your contribution payable to the Mt. Markham Optimist Club and mail to: Mt. Markham Optimist Club, PO Box 53, West Winfield, NY 13491

Please give generously so that others, especially the children, may share the joy of this holiday season.

Questions? Please call Jeff Barrett @ 315-822-3241, Dennis Haggerty @ 315-525-5224, or Everett Bailey @ 315-822-6276 | 2024 Community Christmas Basket Program
