Word of the day! Kismet: Definition - Fate
Fun Fact! The actors that voiced Mickey and Minnie Mouse got married in real life.
 *****
Laughter is good for the soul
 - My wife said, "why don't you treat me like you use to when we first met?" So, we went to dinner and a movie, and I dropped her off at her parents' house.
 - 5 Ants rented an apartment with another 5 Ants. Now they're tenants.
 - How do I know I have hit middle age? In preparation for a big sneeze...I cross my legs really hard and hope for the best!

Medicare Reminder - Pap Smears, Pelvic Exams, And Breast Exams
 Pap smears can detect cervical or vaginal cancer in its early stages. They can also screen for sexually transmitted infections (STIs), fibroids, and various types of vaginal problems. The pelvic exam includes a breast/chest examination, which can help detect signs of breast/chest cancer.
 Eligibility
 Medicare Part B covers a Pap smear, pelvic exam, and breast/chest exam once every 24 months. You may be eligible for these screenings every 12 months if:
 • You are at high risk for cervical or vaginal cancer
 • Or, you are of childbearing age and have had an abnormal Pap smear in the past 36 months
 Medicare may consider you at high risk for cervical or vaginal cancer if:
 • You were sexually active before age 16
 • You have had five or more sexual partners
 • You have had a sexually transmitted infection
 • Your parent/mother was given the drug diethylstilbestrol (DES) during pregnancy
 • You have received fewer than three negative Pap smear or no Pap smear within the past seven years
Note: Some cancer screenings and other services are associated with specific genders in Medicare materials and rules but are covered regardless of the gender marker in your Social Security record, as long as the screening is clinically appropriate for you. Medicare has specific billing modifiers that your provider should use when submitting claims for services when the gender marker on your Social Security record could cause an incorrect coverage denial.
